Are you experiencing any of the following problems with your dog/puppy?

- Barks at people and other animals uncontrollably?
- keeps pulling on the leash when out for a walk?
- Ignores you when being called?
- Chews shoes, furniture, and other things he's not supposed to?
- Jumps up on people?
- Cries when left alone?
- Gets over-excited around other dogs?
- Is not potty trained?
- Struggles to focus or learn new commands?

If so... You're not alone.

I want to be completely transparent with you.

The truth is, Everyone would like to have a calm, confident and smart doggy...

... But not everyone is willing to put in the work for it.

The most common misconception I hear dog owners say is that they are “not good enough”, or that they don't have the necessary skills to train their dog.

When in reality, absolutely anyone can train their dog... and any dog can be trained!

Meet Mark. Your New Instructor!

{Mark's introduction video}

I'm a positive reinforcement dog trainer. I believe in empowering my students to speak a language that allows their dogs to listen.

One of the key things that I'll teach you is 'Positive Theory', which works by reinforcing your dog's behaviors at the root of the root.

The problem with teaching your dog's some basic cues, is that they can only replicate the techniques when applied on familiar environments

But the power of Positive Theory allows your dog to understand and listen to you under any circumstances, even when outside in environments full of distractions.

"I define a dog trainer as someone who takes responsibility for finding the potential in every dog and who has the courage to develop that potential without force."

This means No Dominance, No Shock Collars and most importantly, No Force!

I strongly believe you don't need such sleazy methods to train your dog/puppy, and your dog/puppy will thank you for that!

Throughout the years, I trained 7 champion dogs and helped thousands of students and online followers create meaningful connections with their dogs. And the secret sauce to my training ultimately comes down to the mindset and attitude I teach my students to adopt.

This is Why Most Dog Training Programs Flop

The main reason most dog training programs fail is because dog parents abandon their training efforts.

But let's be fair, it's not the dog parents' fault... The reason they abandon their efforts ultimately boils down to the training program they enrolled in.

You see, most programs only focus on teaching how to do certain exercises by providing basic cookie-cutter techniques.

Which means they're barely scraping the surface of how training a dog works!

In fact, one thing I will teach you is how to build a long-lasting stable and trustworthy relationship with your dog that will allow both of you to overcome any hurdles!

Not only that, my membership will give you the underlying confidence and motivation you need to take your training to the next step, guiding you through actionable and easy-to-follow methods that build up your skills.

Lots of Dog Owners are Already Reaping the Membership Benefits!
This is What They're Saying...

I found Mark when traditional reward based training just wasn't working for my extremely reactive boxer. It's been a year since we started with his game-based training. After going through this program I feel 100% more confident and far better about training, my boxer is now one of the calmest and smartest dogs at the park.

Mark's program feels like some serious Harry Potter type magic. I have a 3 year old pit bull, I honestly can't believe how much progress we have made in a short 4 weeks of being inside the Dogger membership. I recommend it to everyone at the park when they ask about my transformation. Just over 4 weeks ago he was pulling me down the road to the park so hard I thought my arm would come off. Now we have stress free walks and I can let him off lead when we get to the park. Thank you Mark for not only making this program, but also making it so affordable. In the last 3 years I spent over $4500 on in-home trainers before this and didn't make nearly as much progress!

Let's Talk Finance...

Why The Dogger Membership Will Save You a Ton of Money

Bringing your puppy to a dog trainer is a thing of the past...

... a 2020 homeguide survey shows the average cost of dog training is about $50 per hour.

Dog obedience training schools cost $800 to $2,400 per month...

... While bootcamps kennel training run from $2,000 to a mesmerizing $5,000 per month.

And That's Not All!

Most of these in-person training do not teach you—the dog owner—how to replicate the exercises.

And even when they do, you still end up having a ton of questions, needing help with the exercises, and wondering how to do the movements.

So you find yourself having to go back to those courses every once in a while.

Lucky for you, the Internet and online courses have revolutionized how people can learn and exchange information...

... In fact, you're in for a treat because you can get the same results (if not better) without having to spend anywhere near that.

So The Question Must Be Pending Off Your Lips... How Much?

Well, I thought long and hard about this...

... "What's a reasonable investment to transform an unresponsive puppy into a well behaved and trained doggy?"

After thinking and analyzing the value of the Dogger Membership thoroughly, and considering all the benefits it provides.

This is the number I came up with.

$997...

... BUT WAIT!

You won't be paying anywhere near that.

But Before You Go Out And Celebrate The Discounted Price...

Unfortunately, several spots are already booked, and new requests are floating in every day.

And as much as I would like to, I can't make this membership available for anyone...

... Why?

Because in order to keep the quality of the membership high, and be able to interact with everyone, I have to limit the available spots drastically.

In short... The Dogger Membership can only host 100 people!

ONLY 100!

If you landed on this page, there's a big chance that the offer is still active...

... So if you want to avoid disappointment, you need to make a decision right now.

That's all sunshine and rainbows Mark. But where did it all start?

Well, I'm glad you asked...

They call me "the canine-loving mastermind" around here. Seriously, I love what I do and I'm pumped to share all of my expertise with you!

I met my dog Tango in {insert year}, the Border Collie star in many of the photos you see on the page. Through our training together she went on to become a Dog Jumping Champion – among many other achievements.

Fast forward to university, I studied film production and marketing, and it was during these years I realized my passion for digital marketing and started creating plans for growing my business as a full-time Dog Trainer.
